COMMUNITY

Each of the many of ethnic and religious communities in Novi Sad has been trying to make its temples and cultural institutions more beautiful and contemporary, thus enriching the concept of multi-ethnicity before it even entered into the public eye perspective. All communities of Novi Sad have sought to achieve the equality of cultures within various social and political systems, contributing in such a way to general, economic and cultural development of the city. Striking buildings, squares, temples, city parks, cultural and educational institutions are a vivid testimony to this. Material and non-material cultural heritage, created in the past centuries, stands as the basis of an interactive network of scientific and cultural institutions, which makes Novi Sad today an area where cultures and different identities actively meet. This is the city of museums, galleries, and events such as the EXIT music festival that has gained international rewards and undeniable recognisability.

EASE OF LIVING

The thing that most vigorously characterizes the past and present Novi Sad is a serious ease of daily life of its citizens, multilingual communication, and the joy of participating in different and the same sacred festivities. That is probably why people in Novi Sad celebrate two Christmases and two New Year's Eves so zealously.

Rhythms of relaxed communication effortlessly involve all curious people in unexpected, but pleasant conversations in the city's squares, in its streets or restaurants. Even the Clock Tower at Petrovaradin Fortress assures everyone wishing to go back to fulfilling their obligations, that hours, not minutes are the right measure of things.

PLACES TO EXPERIENCE

A cheerful murmur of chatting fans of all generations can be traditionally heard in many of the city's restaurants, cafes, and outdoor bars in the city centre. The need to experience a direct and unpretentious encounter overwhelms those who are open to reality. That's why Novi Sad is easy to love and hard to forget. And memories taken from it can be best understood as a light warmth provided by favourite and casual piece of clothing to which we often return.

Petrovaradin Fortress - the Gibraltar on the Danube, is the place that all the roads in Novi Sad lead to. It reminds us that Novi Sad has often been the site of conflicts between civilizations, cultures and political aspirations. The Austrian fortress, built to protect the southern edge of the powerful Habsburg Monarchy in the 18th century, is the most important tourist attraction in Novi Sad today.

THE CITY OF NOVI SAD A SMALL DROP IN THE UNIVERSE BETWEEN THE EAST AND WEST, NORTH AND SOUTH

Thanks to architects, including the most renowned European ones, buildings and palaces in the classical, eclectic, secession, Bauhaus and modern styles have been erected in the city centre.

EASINESS AND CLOSENESS

When you leave the urban layers of Belgrade's reality and glamour of Budapest, and arrive to Novi Sad, you feel as if you have entered into attractive beats of easiness and closeness. A wide central boulevard in Novi Sad with its modernly conceived contours still radiates the recentness of the socialist ear, while decisively leading into the web of multiethnic architectural milieu typical of Central Europe of the 19th and the beginning of the 20th century. The towers and domes of Protestant churches, Greek Catholic Church, the Synagogue, Roman Catholic and Orthodox temples define the core of the city that redeemed its freedom from the Empress Maria Theresa on February 1st, 1748, and began a new life under the name of Neoplantae (Novi Sad, Neusatz, Új-Vidég).

Thanks to architects, including the most renowned European ones, the buildings and palaces in the classical, eclectic, secessionist, Bauhaus and modern styles have been erected in the city centre.

The contemporary role of the Gibraltar on the Danube is reflected in the development of innovative and critical cultural production. For over fifty years, the former military facilities at the Fortress have been the home to the Fine Art Circle, the largest informal colony of artists in the world which gathers around two hundred artists, mostly painters.

PROGRAMMES AND EVENTS

In the last few years, and in addition to the traditional cultural production, there have been programmes and events created on the platform of a new cultural matrix centred around avantgarde and alternative. Along with recognisable and traditional cultural platform, a new, creative energy of youth groups and organisations has contributed to Novi Sad being proclaimed the European Capital of Culture 2021 and the European Youth Capital 2019.

SURROUNDINGS AND NATURE

The southern slopes of the Novi Sad area belong to the miraculous Fruška Gora. This eighty kilometres long mountain is the home to sixteen Orthodox monasteries, the same number of lakes, protected areas of the same named national park, ethno houses and numerous wineries. The content and diversity of Fruška Gora are an eternal inspiration that will bring you back again.

The northern region of Novi Sad is characterised by the Pannonian culture of life with “salaš” farmsteads as it’s most representational symbols. They are the islands in the sea of the Pannonian flatland that guard the spirit and the beat of the past times, horses running wild across the vast flatland and warmth of old brick furnaces resisting to the Carpathian snow and winds.

The old Baroque is still alive here today in the gastronomic richness and diversity, but also in the way in which food and enjoyment in it are celebrated. “Salaš” farmsteads, “čarda” fish taverns on the Danube, and wine trails on the edges of Novi Sad provide the visitors the opportunity to experience the wealth of traditional food, wine and rural customs.

The Danube River is the impassable eternally powerful constant in Novi Sad’s identity that flows through the city as the main street, shaping not only the geography of the area, but also the way in which the citizens comprehend the world. This is the reason why Novi Sad is the city on the Danube, the city of rich European history, and home to unique tradition and Balkan hospitality.

Welcome!

City Hall

THE CITY HALL (Magistrate) at the Liberty Square is a monumental neo-Renaissance building that was built in 1895. The competition for the design of the Magistrate building was announced in 1855 and it was open to all the builders of the Habsburg Monarchy. The winner of the competition was György Molnar, who built the Magistrate (Rathaus, Varoshaz) as an impressive building with four domes at all four corners and a tower with a balcony at the top.

At the time when it was built the tower itself had the bell that served as a warning bell in the case of fire. The bell that the citizens of Novi Sad used to call “Matilda” was melted during the war but the memory of it is still alive. Allegorical figures, the work of a Novi Sad sculptor Julius Anika, are the most prominent elements of the facade. The sculpting plastic was inspired by antique mythology representing diverse human activities, always in compliance with high moral values. The City Hall is now the head-office of the Mayor and certain public services. Its Ceremonial Hall, which was painted by a painter Pavel Ružička, is decorated with medallions presenting the symbols of agricultural, crafts’ and merchants’ social layers.

Monument of Svetozar Miletić

THE MONUMENT TO SVETOZAR MILETIĆ, the most significant Serbian politician in Vojvodina from the 19th century, is located at the Liberty Square. The bronze statue that is 5 m high is the work of a famous Croatian sculptor Ivan Meštrović from 1939. During the World War II the monument was removed but after the liberation it was returned to the place where it still stands today.

Svetozar Miletić (1826-1901) remained remembered in history as a lawyer and Mayor of Novi Sad (1861-1862; 1867-1868), member of the Hungarian and Croatian Parliaments, President of the Serbian Reading Room, one of the founders of the Serbian National Theatre (1861) as well as one of the founders of the Serbian National Liberal-minded Party (1869) and initiator of the newspaper “Zastava” (1866), one of the most influential among the Serbs in the Habsburg Monarchy. His ideas and political programme influenced the creating of a national programme and national movement of Vojvodina Serbs in the second half of the 19th century. He was arrested, sentenced and imprisoned several times because of his political activities. Due to illness that was the consequence of a long imprisonment Miletić withdrew from political life. He died in Vršac in 1901.

Roman Catholic Parish Church of the Name of Mary

ROMAN CATHOLIC PARISH CHURCH OF THE NAME OF MARY (known as the "Cathedral") was built in neo-Gothic style in the period from 1893 to 1895. It was built at the Liberty Square at the site of older churches, the oldest among which was built in the first decades of the 18th century. During the Rebellion (1849), the original church was destroyed in a fire and upon the completion of the war conflicts the Catholic community started rebuilding its temple, which became a permanent cathedral temple in 1864. By the end of the 19th century the Catholic community of the city of Novi Sad decided to build a new, representational temple which can still be seen today. By the end of 1891 the old Catholic church was torn down and the building of a new one started according to the project by an architect György Molnar. He built a three-nave basilica with the tower that was 73 m high, which made it the highest church in the city. There are four altars in the church and the main one is decorated by carved wood from Tyrol. The windows are decorated with vitrages made in Pest and presenting the Bible topics and coats of arms of the Novi Sad noble families. The church organs date back to 1885. Concerts of art music, including those of organ players, are often held in the church. After the fire in 1904 that destroyed the church roof, the church was restored and the roof was decorated with hexagonal enamelled ceramic tiles. The bust of an architect György Molnar can be found in the niche below the church choir. During the latest restoration the yellow facade brick that the church is covered with was cleaned. A new lighting was also installed which contributed to making the Roman Catholic Church of the Name of Mary one of the most recognisable buildings in Novi Sad.

Building of Vojvodjanska Bank

The building of Vojvodjanska Bank (Liberty Square) is also known as the former Yugoslav National Army Centre. Historical records tell us that there was a multi-storey building at that site in 1754 known as the tavern "Kod zelenog venca" ("At the Green Wreath's") owned by the captain Sava Nikolić. The owners of the tavern, which later became the "Green Wreath" Hotel, changed often all until the end of the 19th century when the building was demolished. By the middle of the 19th century the "Green Wreath" Hotel was the meeting point and venue of heated political debates between the higher class in the city and supporters of Svetozar Miletić's political programme. By the end of the 19th century the "Green Wreath" Hotel lost its glory and renowned clientele. In 1892 Emerich Meyer built a luxurious hotel in neo-baroque style on its foundations and called it "Grand Hotel Meyer". In 1916 already the hotel was sold to Lazar Dundjerski and since then it became the venue of celebrations, balls and political meetings. That was the place where on November 25th, 1918 the Great National Assembly of the Serbs, Bunjevci and Other Slavs in Banat, Bačka and Baranja proclaimed the unification with the Kingdom of Serbia. Among 757 delegates of this Assembly there were 7 women who were granted the voting right, which was an exception when it came to the status of women of those times. After the end of the World War II the hotel was renamed to "Liberty" Hotel all until 1953 when it became the Yugoslav National Army Centre. That ended a multi-centennial tradition of hotels being located at that site. During the transition period the building became the head-office of Vojvodjanska Bank.

Hotel "Vojvodina"

For more than century and a half the building of the Hotel "Vojvodina" has always accommodated hotels the names of which have been changing through centuries and epochs. The first hotel was built at that site in 1854 by Johan Eigler. It was a luxuriously equipped late-classicist building that was named after the Austrian Empress Elisabeth, the wife of Franz Joseph I. The hotel named after the Empress Elisabeth was the meeting point of a higher class known after a good cuisine, wines, balls and parties. The following owner was Gedeon Dundjerski. Lazar Dundjerski Theatre was built in the hotel yard in 1895 according to the design by Vladimir Nikolić. The theatre, which had 650 seats, burnt down in 1928. That was when the library, dressing rooms, decoration and many other items belonging to the Serbian National Theatre that used to give its performances there were irretrievably lost. After the end of the World War I the hotel was named after the Queen Marija, the wife of the King Aleksandar (Karadjordjević). After the end of the World War II the hotel got its current name – "Vojvodina". During the period of more than century and a half of its existence the hotel has been visited or it has accommodated Laza Kostić, Marko Miljanov, Miloš Crnjanski and many other renowned persons. A famous Hungarian writer Lajos Zilahy died in it in 1974. A passage that connects the hotel yard and Kralja Aleksandra Street was named after him.

Building of the Roman Catholic Parish Office - Plebanija

THE BUILDING OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC PARISH OFFICE – PLEBANIIJA is one of the rare buildings that have remained intact during the Rebellion when Novi Sad was bombed by cannons from Petrovaradin Fortress sin 1849. The building was built in 1808 according to the project by Georg Efinger. It is one of rare examples of architecture with characteristics of classicism and late baroque. The symmetry of the main facade was resolved by shallow central projection with four pilasters, roof wreath with plastic decoration and symmetrically placed rectangular windows. The building has a prominent roof made in the manner of baroque hipped roofs and placed at a height. The interior holds a richly decorated Ceremonial Hall.

Cultural Centre of Novi Sad (CCNS)

CULTURAL CENTRE OF NOVI SAD (CCNS) is the institution of culture with the tradition that is more than half a century long. During the 1950s, the Youth Forum and Youth Cultural Centre "Sonja Marinković" were conducting their activities as predecessors of the current Cultural Centre of Novi Sad. They gathered the most significant names from the world of art, in particular literature, in the socialist Yugoslavia. The witness to that is a magazine for literature and theory called "Polja" as a unique overview of diverse literary aesthetics in the region exceeding the territory of the former socialist Yugoslavia. The contemporary Cultural Centre of Novi Sad is the institution of culture that cherishes diverse programmes – from fine art to musical ones, from theatre to film and literary programmes, most of which are organised in one of the following premises: "Youth Forum" Club, Great hall of the CCNS, Fine Art Salon of the CCNS and Small Fine Art Salon of the CCNS. Cultural Centre of Novi Sad organises the following traditional festivals: INFANT – International Festival of Alternative and New Theatre, Novi Sad Jazz Festival, Prosefest, European and Independent Film Festival EURO IN, Antić's Days, etc.

Building of the Central Credit Bureau

THE BUILDING OF THE CENTRAL CREDIT BUREAU is located on the corner of Miletičeva and Grčkoškolska streets. The building was designed by the Viennese architect of the Czech origin Franz Voruda in the style of academism with rich decorations. It was built in 1895 and the names of its builders include also György Molnar. At the time of construction it was the property of the "Central Credit Bureau" in Novi Sad that used to be the most important financial institution of the Serbs in the Habsburg monarchy along with the Serbian Bank d.d. in Zagreb. Central Credit Bureau was founded in 1890 as a stock company with the aim to support trading, crafts, and economic interests as well as the educational and cultural activities of the Serbs in Croatia and Hungary. The original building had only one floor, but the additional floor was built in 1925, again according to the project by Franz Voruda. The most striking impression is left by the entrance into the building above which the dome arises holding on its top the sculpture of Mercury, the god from Roman mythology who was the protector of merchants and trade. The sculpture is the work of the sculptor Djordje Jovanović. The building is richly decorated under the influence of secession.

Bishop's Palace

THE PALACE OF THE BAČKA BISHOP of the Serbian Orthodox Church has always been located at the crossroads of Zmaj Jovina and Dunavska Street, in the closest vicinity of the Orthodox Parish Church of St. George. The building of the old Palace, which was built in 1741 thanks to the efforts of the Bishop Visarion Pavlović, was destroyed in the bombardment of Novi Sad from Petrovaradin Fortress during the Rebellion in 1849. A new building was designed by an architect Vladimir Nikolić in 1899 and the works were completed in 1901. The Bishop's Palace is a monumental, representational structure that was built in the style of eclecticism based on the mixture of Romanticism and Secession. Decorative facade elements, i.e. bifora and trifora windows and abundance of facade decorations give it a special, unique impression. The impression is emphasised by the use of red facade brick that the building is covered with. On the palace facade, from the direction of Zmaj Jovina Street, there is the coat of arms of the Bačka Diocese. The interior of the Palace was paid a special attention, and according to the method of manufacture we can single out the staircase with a rail made of cast iron and painted Palace dining room, the work of Vladimir Predojević. Inside the Palace there is the Chapel with iconostasis painted by Vladimir Kuročkin. During his visit to Novi Sad in 1919 the Regent Aleksandar Karadjordjević stayed at the Palace and from its balcony he addressed the citizens who gathered to greet him.

Serbian Orthodox Church of St. George

SERBIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH OF SAINT GEORGE is the parish congregational church and it is located immediately by the side of the Palace of the Bačka Bishop of the Serbian Orthodox Church. The contemporary church is a one-nave building with a three-piece altar apse and a high, new-Baroque bell tower at the western forefront. The first church was built at that site in the period from 1734 to 1740. As most buildings in Novi Sad it was destroyed in the bombardment of Novi Sad from Petrovaradin Fortress during the Rebellion in 1849. The church was restored in the period from 1851 to 1853 according to the design of the Pest builder Gustav Saiba. The church got its current look after the last renovation that was carried out in the period from 1902 to 1905 according to the plan of Milan Michal Harminc, an architect and contractor from Budapest. The original iconostasis, painted during the first restoration by a painter Jovan Klajić (1815-1888), was replaced with a new one painted by Paja Jovanović (1859-1957), one of the greatest Serbian painters, representative of academic realism. The wall paintings were painted by Stevan Aleksić (1876-1923), who was also one of the most significant Serbian painters by the end of the 19th and beginning of the 20th century. The church interior is decorated with vitrages, which contributes to a general impression of richness experienced by visitors, which witnesses the richness of a community that built the church.

Dunavska Street is one of the oldest streets in Novi Sad. Its current look is the result of restoration that started by the middle of the 19th century. Densely built one-storey buildings in the first part of the street are hiding a branchy network of passages accommodating shops, restaurants... The oldest house in Novi Sad called “At the White Lion’s” that was built during the first decades of the 18th century is located just opposite to it. This is one of the rare buildings that were not destroyed during the Rebellion. The passage of this house hides the mechanism that was a part of a public well from which the citizens used to supply themselves with water from the Danube. Svetozar Miletić, Serbian politician and mayor of Novi Sad, lived in a house at number 14, and on the same side, was a house of a famous actress of the Serbian acting scene, Sofija Vujić, and her daughter, also an actress and directress, Milka Marković. On the opposite side of the street, at number 29, there is a Foreign Art Collection, a Department of the City Museum of Novi Sad. The monument of the Serbian politician Jaša Tomić is in front of the Foreign Art Collection. The buildings of the Museum of Vojvodina (no. 35-37) and Museum of Contemporary Art of Vojvodina (no. 37) are located down the street.

Youth Theatre

Youth Theatre is located at Ignjata Pavlasa Street. It was established in 1931 as the first puppet theatre in Vojvodina and Serbia. In 1936 it moved to a newly built Centre of the King Aleksandar I the Unifier. After the World War II the theatre worked as Vojvodina Puppet Theatre, later on as the City Puppet Theatre, Puppet Theatre and since 1968 as the Youth Theatre. Drama was established in 1991 so that currently there are two ensembles: Drama and Children’s Theatre. The building that currently accommodates the Youth Theatre was designed for the needs of the Athletic Society (Sokolsko društvo) by Djordje Tabaković, one of the most significant Novi Sad architects in the period between the two wars. The building, which is known today as “Sokolski Dom” was built in 1936 in a modern style.

Dunavski (Danube) Park

Dunavski (Danube) Park relies partly on Dunavska Street after which it was named. By the beginning of the 19th century the area covered by the park nowadays used to be the marshy terrain. The regulation and drainage works started by the end of the 19th century. First land reclamation measures included filling of land for the needs of the building “At the English Queen’s” that later on accommodated the court and Museum of Vojvodina. Dunavski Park is the monument of nature and protected natural resort today. The park houses the busts of the poets Branko Radičević, and Miroslav Antić, and a poet and painter Djura Jakšić, the figure of the Nymph holding an antler of abundance and a monument to the Venerable Sergey Radonezhsky. There are 750 trees in the park among which one can see plane trees, Lombardy poplars, hazelnut trees, birch trees, nettle trees, wild chestnut trees, and other tree varieties, including one English oak tree that is under the protection regime. Dunavski Park is the venue of most diverse events such as concerts, performances, etc.

Museum of Vojvodina

Museum of Vojvodina is located at Dunavska Street no. 35-37. Through archaeological, ethnological, and historical collections, it keeps and presents the traces of material and spiritual culture from the territory of Vojvodina starting from Palaeolithic Age to the 20th century. The institution named Vojvodina Museum was established in 1947 by separating a part of the material from the Museum of Matica Srpska. It moved to its current address in 1974. It is the building of a former court that was built in 1896 according to the design of the Budapest architect Gyula Vagner.

Vojvodina Museum used to be the central institution in Vojvodina from which the City

Museum of Novi Sad, Museum of the Workers’ Movement and National Revolution, and Agricultural Museum in Kulpin (among others) arose later on. The Museum of Vojvodina was founded by merging of Vojvodina Museum and Museum of the Workers’ Movement and National Revolution in 1992. The Museum of Vojvodina has also got two branches –Museum Complex in Kulpin and Ethno Park “Brvnara” in Bački Jarak. Three parade, late Roman, gold plated helmets are some of exceptionally valuable pieces displayed in the Museum of Vojvodina.

Museum of Contemporary Art of Vojvodina

Grammar School "Jovan Jovanović Zmaj"

The building of the Grammar School "Jovan Jovanović Zmaj" was built in the spirit of eclecticism at the site where the Great Serbian Orthodox Grammar School had been located since the second half of the 18th century. Vladimir Nikolić, one of the best known Serbian architects by the end of the 19th and beginning of the 20th century known also as the builder of important buildings in Sremski Karlovci (Patriarch's Residence Palace, Orthodox Seminary, building of the Church-People's Funds – Stefaneum) made the project for the grammar school building. The basis of the building layout resembles to the basis of the Patriarch's Residence Palace in Sremski Karlovci because it was made in the shape of a Cyrillic letter "П" with the main facade consisting of three overhangs with domes. A neo-Renaissance building of the grammar school has got three yards. The interior is adapted to the purpose of the building while the Ceremonial Hall stands out for its beauty. Its walls and ceiling are richly decorated. The construction works were financed by the baron Miloš Bajić. The evidence to that is the fact that his name can be found in the inscription on the facade above the entrance that reads: "Baron Miloš Bajić to the Serbian people". On the wall at the beginning of Zlatne Grede Street there is the plaque informing us about the fact that the birth house of a physician, poet, translator, renowned member of Matica Srpska and Serbian Royal Academy, Jovan Jovanović Zmaj (1833-1904) used to be at that site.

Matica Srpska

Matica Srpska is the oldest and most respectable cultural and scientific institution among the Serbs. It was founded in Budapest, in 1826 and moved to Novi Sad in 1864. Its founders were Jovan Hadžić, Petar Rajić, Andrija Rozmirović, Gavrilo Bozيتovac, Jovan Demetrović, Josif Milovuk, and Djordje Stanković. They gathered around the idea to preserve the Serbian culture and tradition and present it to other nations in Europe, as well as to raise the overall cultural level of the Serbian people. That is why the printing activity was among the most important ones, which is evidenced by the existence of "Letopis Matice srpske" ("Matica Srpska Chronicle"), the oldest literary magazine in the world that has been published continuously since 1824. The building of Matica Srpska was built in 1912 according to the project of Momčilo Tapavica as the endowment of Marija Trandafil. Matica moved there in 1928. The building currently houses the head-office of Matica Srpska, Library of Matica Srpska, as well as the departments for literature and language, sciences, humanities, fine arts, performing arts and music, Lexicography Department and Manuscript Department of Matica Srpska. This place keeps a valuable collection of portraits of founders, benefactors and donors of Matica Srpska made by the leading Serbian painters mainly from the 19th century.

Serbian Orthodox Church of Relocation of the Relics of St. Nicholas

Serbian Orthodox Church of Relocation of the Relics of St. Nicholas – Saint Nicholas’ Church is the oldest Orthodox church in Novi Sad. It is known that the church was consecrated in 1730 and that its founders were the Bogdan brothers, who built it as a family chapel and tomb. The church was destroyed in the Rebellion (1849), as many other buildings in Novi Sad were. The restoration, which was completed in 1862, was financed by the great benefactors, Jovan and Marija Trandafil, from the fund they founded for that purpose. St. Nicholas’ church is a baroque building of smaller dimensions with a prominent bell tower above the western front and a smaller dome above the central part of the church nave. The iconostasis is the work of the Novi Sad painter Pavle Simić (1818-1876). His work in the field of church painting is connected with the Nazarene painting that he probably came to know during his studies at the Academy in Vienna. The benefactors Marija and Jovan Trandafil were buried in the church, and so were their two early deceased children Kosta and Sofija. The sons of Albert Einstein and Mileva Marić-Einstein, his first wife and citizen of Novi Sad, were baptised in this church. The oldest inscription of the word “Novi Sad” written in Serbian can be seen on the external church wall.

His opus does not include only the buildings in Novi Sad and Vojvodina but also in Belgrade. His renown was exceptional and the evidence to that was the fact that Brašovan was the author of the Yugoslav pavilions at the World Expo in Barcelona (1929) and Milan (1931). The building of Banovina or the Ban’s Palace consists of two units.

A larger building is currently the seat of the Provincial Government with all the accompanying Departments and Secretariats, while a smaller one is the seat of the Assembly of the Autonomous Province of Vojvodina. The marble from Brač that was used to cover the building adds to the beauty of this beautiful building while the interior holds the staircase for which the marble from Carara was used. Petrovaradin Fortress

Petrovaradin Fortress – the “Gibraltar on the Danube” – was built from 1692 to 1780. It covers the surface of 112 ha. The Fortress is divided into the Upper and Lower Town (Suburbium). The Upper Town is dominated by the bastions: Lower Ludwig’s Bastion, Upper Ludwig’s Bastion, Innocent’s Bastion, Maria Theresa’s Bastion, St. Leopold’s Bastion, and Bastion of Tsar Joseph I. The following structures have been preserved: Officers’ Pavilion, Leopold’s Gunpowder Depot, Food Depot, Arsenal, Long and Simple Barracks, Clock Tower, and Contingency

War Well. Petrovaradin Fortress was built based on the idea of marquis Sebastian Vauban (1633-1707). A special place among its builders belongs to the count Aloisius Ferdinando Luigi Marsigli (1659-1730), a versatile and educated figure who harmoniously combined knowledge and capacities of a writer, historian, cartographer, archaeologist, architect and builder and a soldier. In a six-volume book about the Danube that Marsigli published in the Hague in 1726, he left the data about Petrovaradin and Čenej. His legacy is kept in Bologna in the Marsigli Museum that was opened in 1930.

One of the most striking buildings of the Upper Town is Leopold’s Gate with a Baroque style front and a suspension bridge. The gate holds the coat of arms of the Austrian Empire above which there is the motto of the Habsburg Monarchy reading: “Viribus unitis” (With joined forces).

The underground military galleries/tunnels

The underground military galleries/tunnels, a four-storey communication-defence system that is 16 km long, makes a unique attraction of Petrovaradin Fortress. The building of this complicated system was completed in 1783. A part of the network of corridors, rooms of different purposes, war lines with loopholes and mine systems that are close to 1 km long, is open to visitors with a professional guide service of the City Museum of Novi Sad. The mine fields are the curiosity of this complex war waging-communication system – the largest mine filed system in the world after Antwerp that was completed in 1783. Due to safety provided by this never conquered Fortress it accommodated the Treasury where the gold and silver of the Habsburg Monarchy were kept safe.

Clock Tower

The Upper Town is dominated by the Clock Tower. It was built at the site of an older one that had been destroyed by the middle of the 18th century. The diameter of the clock exceeds 2 meters. The clock faces are placed at all four cardinal points, hour symbols are written in Roman figures while the hands are oriented so that the large one shows hours and the small one shows minutes. The clock mechanism is wound every day. On the top of the Clock Tower there are a weather vane and a compass, with a heart instead of a spear on its mast. In addition to the Clock Tower the eyes of the visitors are often captured by a two-storey building of the Long Barracks, which was built in the second half of the 18th century. This was the main building of the Aviation Non-commissioned Officers School of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes and the most famous student of that school was Franjo Kluz, the pioneer of air forces of the National Liberation Army during the World War II.

Atelier 61 was founded in 1961 as the workshop for manufacture of artistic tapestries of large formats and it is one of unique and rare similar institutions in the world. It was founded by Boško Petrović (1922-1982). The role and the main objective of Atelier 61 is the preservation of tradition of manufacture of items made of fabric. In the beginning of the 1960s already it started producing large format tapestries according to the drafts (cartoons) of well known Yugoslav artists Stojan Čelić, Lazar Vujaklija, Mladen Srbinović, Milan Konjović, Ankica Oprešnik, etc. First exhibitions of tapestries made in Atelier 61 organised in the country and abroad (Scandinavia, Latin America, USA, Europe) were welcomed with high recognitions that introduced this workshop onto the map of cultural institutions of great value. During the history that is half a century long more than 800 tapestries were made in Atelier 61 in co-operation with close to 200 artists. First weavers were women who learnt the craft from their mothers and grandmothers. Currently they are the weavers who learnt the craft in “Bogdan Šuput” school. The institution also includes the Gallery of Tapestries “Boško Petrović”, which was established in 1999. In addition to exhibition of tapestries from the “Atelier 61” Collection the Gallery also hosts musical and literary evenings. Roman Catholic Church of St. George

Roman Catholic Church of St. George with a convent was built in a baroque style in the period from 1701 to 1714, while the convent dormitories were built in 1734. The facade of the church is decorated with the statue of St. Ignatius Layol, the founder of the Order of Jesus i.e. Jesuits. The crypt that is located in the church cellar keeps the graves of representatives of high nobility who were killed in the battles with the Turks starting from 1696 and in the most famous Battle at Vezirac in 1716. The oldest epitaph in the church is dedicated to the Baron Hainrich von Nekem, a general and commanding officer of the Fortress who served there by the end of the 17th century and died in 1713. The epitaph says that the Lord assigned him the Heaven as a place for his eternal home since he had been a meritorious soldier who also had had other virtues. The plaques in the Roman Catholic Church of St. George witnesses that the Austro-Hungarian Emperor Franz Joseph (1830-1916) visited the Petrovaradin Fortress in 1852. Regent Aleksandar Karadjordjević (1888-1934) did the same in 1919.

Roman Catholic Church of Mary of the Snow

The Roman Catholic Church of Mary of the Snow is located at Tekije, at the exit from Petrovaradin, on the way to Sremski Karlovci. This monumental building was built at the site where initially a catholic church stood and later on a mosque during the period of the Turkish rule, which commenced with their victory at the battle of Mohač in 1526. By the end of the 17th century the Jesuits rearranged the abandoned mosque at Tekije and turned it into a church that they dedicated to Holy Mother's immaculate conception.

Christian Army that contributed to a permanent withdrawal of the Turks from the regions of Bačka and Srem happened on August 5th, 1716 in the vicinity of the temple at Tekije, in the Vezirac area. According to the legend, the victory of the Christian Army was attributed to the Holy Mother and the church at Tekije erected in her glory became a specific memento of the Christian Army victory. The church got its contemporary outlook in 1881 thanks to the efforts of the bishop and writer Ilija Okruglič Sremac. The project of restoration in neo-Gothic-Romanticism style was made by the architect Herman Bole. The crescent below the cross on the top of the church dome is one of specific characteristics of the church. The other one is the copy of the icon of Holy Mary of the Snow made after the original from the Roman church of Santa Maria Maggiore that is kept inside the church. Nowadays, the church is the ecumenical sanctuary where during the Small and Big Tekija the processions are held (the latter being in the memory of the battle at Vezirac from 1716).

NOVI SAD THROUGH HISTORY

Novi Sad, the city with history that is somewhat more than 300 years long, lies in the foothills of Fruška Gora, in the shadow of Petrovaradin Fortress on the banks of the river Danube. Irrespective of such a relatively short history of the urban core itself, Novi Sad, as well as the wider area that it belongs to has a very long and interesting past built by numerous nations of diverse cultures and religions. The history records that a wider city area was inhabited by the Romans, Gepides, Huns, Avars, Slavs, Germans, Hungarians, Byzantines, and Turks.

The story about history of contemporary Novi Sad cannot be separated from the history of Petrovaradin Fortress. The first fortress on Petrovaradin rock was built by the Romans, it was restored by the Hungarians and later on taken over by the Turks during the domination that was more than a century and a half long. The building of Petrovaradin Fortress began in 1692, after the Turks were expelled, for the sake of protection of the Habsburg Monarchy against the intrusions of the Turks. At the same time, on the left, marshy bank of the Danube, opposite the Fortress and around the bridgehead, the settlement of merchants, craftsmen and soldiers arose. It was initially called Racko (Serbian) village and later on it became known as Petrovaradin Trench.

The building of Petrovaradin Fortress attracted to Petrovaradin

Trench a large number of soldiers, merchants and craftsmen of different nations and religions. The settlement was growing, the population was increasing so that in 1748 the rich residents bought up freedom for a military-chamber settlement for 80,000 Forints from the Empress Maria Theresa. Petrovaradin Trench became a free royal city and got the name Neoplantae (Neusatz /Újvidék/Novi Sad).

From 1748 the city was managed by freely elected Magistrate. At that time Novi Sad had 4,620 inhabitants and the key functions in the city were given in turns to

CISTERCIAN MONASTERY OF BELAFONS (BELAE FONTIS; BÉLAKÚT)

THE CISTERCIAN MONASTERY (ABBEY) OF BELAFONS (BELAKUT) with the church dedicated to the Virgin Mary was built within the area of the Upper Town in the 13th century during the reign of the Hungarian King Bela IV. The Cistercians were a branch of Benedictine Order and they were founded in 1098 in the French abbey of Citeaux (Cistercium in Latin). During the 14th and 15th century and all until of the fall of Petrovaradin under the Turkish rule in 1526 the abbey was a strong Christian centre known also after the wine production. The only stone remain – the witness of Cistercian monastery is the relief of a cat's head. This part of stone plastic, which used to decorate the portal of the abbey church is currently kept in the City Museum of Novi Sad. During the 15th century the Hungarian King Matthias Corvinus, realising the significance of fortification for the defence of the Turks, started working on renewal of the fort and fortifying of the tower. In today's Petrovaradin he concluded the treaty with the Republic of Venice on alliance and struggle against the Turks. The Hungarian King Vladislaus II and Archbishop Peter Varadi continued building the fortress. The Turks conquered the Petrovaradin Fortress in 1526. It remained under their rule all until the battle at Slankamen in 1691 when they left permanently Srem and Petrovaradin. In 1692 the Austrians started building a contemporary Petrovaradin Fortress, a master piece of military architecture of the 18th century.

members of the Orthodox and Catholic community. The city was bombarded from Petrovaradin Fortress in the Revolution (1848-49) in 1849 and it was almost completely destroyed. The period of great restoration lasted during the second half of the 19th century when many representational buildings that make the central city core today were built.

After the end of the World War I the residents of Novi Sad and Vojvodina passed a historical decision to join Serbia, namely the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes (future Yugoslavia).

After the end of the World War II Novi Sad has been developing intensively so that within the frames of former Yugoslavia and Serbia it has grown into one of the most significant cultural, economic, and university centres, which it still is.

CHINESE QUARTER AND ALTERNATIVE CULTURAL MATRIX

Recently, the programmes and events belonging to a new cultural matrix compared to a traditional cultural production are emerging – those leaning towards the avant-garde and alternative. Their programme epicentre is the Students Cultural Centre while Chinese Quarter is their spatial epicentre. A new creative energy that is active within the space of the Chinese Quarter is a part of ideas and activities that nominated Novi Sad for the European Capital of Culture 2021.

The institutions such as the Fine Art Circle – Association of artists of Petrovaradin Fortress and Cultural centre CK13 stand out as alternative to a traditional cultural matrix. Fine Art Circle is the largest informal colony of artists in the world since it has been gathering more than 200 artists, mainly painters within the space of Petrovaradin Fortress for more than fifty years now. We should also mention the ITD Gallery or the Institute for Design Transfusion. Cultural centre CK13 is the centre of alternative and innovative programmes that corresponds with the audience of an avant-garde sensibility and different identities.

ENTERTAINMENT AND NIGHTLIFE

Novi Sad is known after excellent nightlife and entertainment

Nightlife is organised seven days a week and it offers excellent time for everyone's taste. There are cafés, clubs, pubs, discotheques, gardens and terraces where Vojvodina tamburitza can be heard, as well as local pop and rock bands, DJs, and places with punk and metal music for those who prefer "harder" sound.

Tamburitza music can also be heard at Petrovaradin Fortress, in wine cellars in the city centre, at "čardas" along the banks of the Danube, and at "salaš" farmsteads. Diverse music programmes are cherished by clubs in Laze Telečkog Street in the car free zone. Those who like punk, rock and metal sound can go to the Chinese Quarter near Limanski Park.

SHOPPING

Commercial quarters are located in the city centre, in Jevrejska Street, along Bulevar Oslobođenja and at SPENS. In addition to several shopping malls in the old city core (Bazaar, Pariski Magazin, Lupus, and Apolo), the car free zone is filled with perfumeries and boutiques some of which sell even the famous European and world brands. In addition to these, Novi Sad also offers the shopping mall Mercator at Bulevar Oslobođenja, TC BIG near the Railway Station, and TC Rodić at the exit from the city towards the Belgrade-Subotica highway.

Fresh produce of local agricultural producers can be bought at green city markets, the most visited among which are Futoška, at Bulevar Oslobođenja, Limanska, near Mercator and Limanski Park, and Riblja (Fish) market that is near the city centre. Nevertheless, Najlon is the largest market that is located at Klisa, and that offers a wide range of diverse second hand goods, antiques, used cars, and furniture.

Hairdressers' salons, massage centres, as well as spa-wellness centres can be found within five and four star hotels, but hairdressers', manicure and beauticians' services can be also obtained in specialised private businesses that are located all around the city. Laundries are mainly located in shopping malls and at Bulevar Oslobođenja.

If you wish to take home some souvenirs as a memento from Novi Sad you can find them in souvenir shops in the city centre and in Mercator shopping mall. You can also find many wine shops with wines from Fruška Gora region.

RIBARSKO OSTRVO

Ribarsko ostrvo (Fishermen's Island) is one of the favourite places of Novi Sad citizens for relaxation and rest. This oasis of greenery that leans on the huge Danube is a peninsula today with the same named tourist settlement and numerous restaurants and "čardas". During the summer months the heat is more easily survived with excellent wines and fish menu, and during winter many "čardas" and restaurants provide a warm sanctuary near the fireplace and with gastronomic treats prepared in Vojvodina way.

GASTRONOMY AND MARKETS

In Novi Sad and its surroundings, people have always eaten well, and without any hurry. Multitude of restaurants will satisfy the wishes of visitors, even those with the most profound taste. You can opt for international cuisine, but also for dishes that are on Sunday and tables of citizens of Novi Sad during “slavas”. Fruška Gora wines: Riesling, Neoplanta, Sémillon, Syrmium, Slankamenka, or Bermet are served with homemade dishes. The gastronomic offer of the “salaš” farmsteads and “čarda” restaurants on the Danube has always been well-known as the pleasure that is not to be missed.

“Salaš” farmsteads, “čarda” restaurants and wine trails at the outskirts of the urban area provide the possibility of gastronomic treat, often combined with traditional, cheerful rural festivities. In the atmosphere typical for Vojvodina rural households, in the orchard shade, with traditional food and good wines you slow down the time at least for a moment and enjoy yourself.

NS BIKE

NS BIKE is the system that enables the residents of Novi Sad and the visitors to rent a bike at an affordable price.

Currently, the bicycles can be rented at thirteen sites: SPENS (Sports-Business Centre "Vojvodina"), main entrance of the "Štrand" beach, in front of the Railway station, near the Serbian National Theatre, in the Campus of the Novi Sad University, in Rumenačka Street, Jovana Dučića Street, Balzakova Street, at NIS building, in Petrovaradin at Reljkovićeva Street, etc.. The idea is for a user to rent a bike, transfer himself/herself to the desired destination and return the bike at the nearest station.

Before using the services of the NS BIKE system, the users need to register at site with the valid ID. The registration implies the making of a chip card, which is a single cost of unlimited duration.

Users' cards can be made at the bike renting station near SPENS, or in the Public Utility Company "Parking Servis", in Filipa Višnjića Street 47 (from 08 a.m. to 04 p.m.). Information available at: www.nsbike.rs
