Welcome

Dear meeting professionals,

Welcome to the city where the Danube beats life's rhythm!

Welcome to Novi Sad, the cultural and economical capital and the university of the northern parts of Serbia, Vojvodina. Welcome to the agricultural center of the entire region of South East Europe.

Generous people will welcome you with smile and respect. Museums and galleries will adore you. Guarding the city and the Danube River, the Petrovaradin Fortress is the ideal place to experience history. Our lifestyle will charm you and it will be very easy to get used to it. Food here actually has a taste! Especially in our unique "czarda" restaurants on water or our "salas" traditional farm houses.

In addition, our modern congress center, a variety of special conference venues, a line-up of brand new and renovated hotels, a list of professional agencies and other service providers as well as extraordinary attractions, programs, and off-site possibilities will help you choose Novi Sad as the venue for future successful meetings, conferences, and motivation trips for you and your clients.

Welcome to Novi Sad!

Tourist Organisation of the City of Novi Sad

The Tourist Organization of the City of Novi Sad positioned itself as a key tourism industry stakeholder and most prominent subject matter expert in this industry. Based on the city's vision, strategic and development activities, and marketing efforts, the Tourist Organization of the City of Novi Sad focuses on market valorization of all the infrastructure amenities and attractions and the highest satisfaction of tourists and visitors.

Our mission is driven by century's old culture and tradition, unlimited events possibilities, and MICE potentials. People of Novi Sad are relaxed, hospitable, creative, and in combination with all above mentioned traits, represents the essential team member.

Following the market trends and learning about a client's request, we have initiated the Congress Department, with the main task to help you in securing the perfect event in Novi Sad. With good cooperation within the MICE industry, our Congress Department will take care of any of your requests. We are at your complete disposal.

OF THE CITY OF NOVI SAD

WELCOME

Why Novi Sad

Easy & Smooth

The city where everything is simple. People will make you enjoy their “easy-going” lifestyle and will encourage you to relax after a working day at the sessions. City with charm, openness, and reliability. This will perfectly match your needs and requests. Streets are just as wide as the smiles of its citizens. Running a successful event will be as simple as that!

Multicultural & Tolerant

Novi Sad has always been a place where various cultures and people from different nations meet, creating the unique blend of different traditions, customs, and lifestyles. Novi Sad is open to new ideas and creative solutions, and at the same time flexible in offering new experiences. Novi Sad will accept you, and you will come back again!

Wise & Smart

Numerous cultural and educational institutions are the reason for awarding Novi Sad with the “University City” title. Being an educational and knowledge hub for decades, Novi Sad offers a broad know-how and academic experience to young people from around the world, and at the same time sets itself up for academic recognition and is a leader in the fields of agriculture, medicine, and information technologies. Choose smart!

Agile & Capable

Line-up of new hotels around the city perfectly completes the capacities of a novel congress center, creating a handy package for organizing a successful event. Adding sophisticated lifestyle to the entire process of running events, and the supreme quality of the service offered around used facilities are the guarantee of aims accomplishment. More than able to assist you!

Enjoy & Exit

The cosmopolitan city tells the story to loosen up after the conference. Just listen carefully. The Danube River keeps the secrets about the Fortress that guards it for centuries. The farmsteads just minutes from the city will award you with one of the best homemade food in the country. The fusion of contemporary and ethno cuisine will surprise you. Just take your time!

How to get to Novi Sad

Conveniently positioned on the Danube corridor and on the roads that connect all parts of the old continent, Novi Sad is easily accessible from different parts of the country and from abroad.

By Plane

From the International Airport “Nikola Tesla” it will take you just 50 minutes via high way from Belgrade to the Novi Sad and selected venues. Currently more than 30 air carriers provide direct connections from 50+ destinations around Europe, Middle East, and North Africa. For transfers to/from the Airport, several transfer companies provide group and private transfers to fit your needs.

By Car

The International Corridor 10 via highway E-75 passes through Novi Sad and provides easy access from around Europe. In addition, delegates coming from the direction of Ljubljana and Zagreb can easily travel on the E-70 highway. Main bus station handles intercity and interurban commuters. International buses are very frequent especially to/from western countries.

By Train

A railway stop on the Orient Express route, Novi Sad is a connecting point between Eastern and Western countries. Frequent domestic and international rail systems provide timely and reliable service to visitors.

By Bike

The international “EuroVelo 6” bicycle route has major portions of its route running through Serbia. The breathtaking trail follows the shores of the Danube and the slopes of Fruska Gora Mountain, making Novi Sad the main attraction point in the country. In addition, an extensive intercity network of cycling trails makes the city perfect when thinking of accessibility.

By Boat

Danube makes Novi Sad really special in many ways. It is not unusual to have river cruiser participants to decide to use some of the venues while in Novi Sad. In addition, Danube provide plenty opportunities for social elements of your event and the pre and post excursion programs.

City Hall

1

City Hall (Magistrate) at the Liberty Square is a monumental neo-Renaissance building that was built in 1895. The work was assigned to a “Baumeister” György Molnar who built the Magistrate building (Rathaus, Varoshaz) as an impressive building with four domes at all four corners and a tower with a balcony near the top. At the time when it was built the tower itself had the bell that served as a warning bell in the case of fire. The bell that the citizens of Novi Sad used to call “Matilda” was melted during the war. Allegorical figures, the work of a Novi Sad sculptor Julius Anika, are the most prominent elements of the facade.

RCP Church of “The Name of Mary”

2

Roman Catholic Parish Church of the Name of Mary was built in neo-Gothic style according to the project of György Molnar in the period from 1893 to 1895 at the site of previous catholic temple dating back to 1742. The church was built as a three-nave basilica with the tower that is 73 m high, which makes it the highest church in the city. There are four altars in the church and the main one is decorated by carved wood from Tyrol. The windows are decorated with vitrages made in Pest and presenting the Bible topics and coats of arms of the Novi Sad Catholic families. The church organs date back to 1895. Today it is the venue of art music concerts, including concerts of renowned organ players. After the fire in 1904 that destroyed the church roof, the church was restored and the roof was decorated with enamelled ceramic tiles.

Serbian Orthodox Church of St. George (Congregational church)

3

Serbian Orthodox Church of Saint George, the Parish Church, is a one-nave building with a three-piece altar apse and a high, new-Baroque bell tower at the western forefront. The first temple was built at this site in the period from 1734 to 1740,. The church was rebuilt in the period from 1851 to 1853 according to the design of Gustav Saiba. The church got its contemporary appearance during the last restoration that was carried out from 1903 to 1905 according to the plan of Milan Michal Harminc. The original iconostasis, was replaced with a new one painted by Paja Jovanović. The wall paintings were painted by Stevan Aleksić. The church interior is decorated with vitrages, which contributes to a general impression of richness experienced by visitors and witnesses to the wealth of a community that built such a parish church.

Orthodox Bishop's Palace

The Palace of the Bačka Bishop of the Serbian Orthodox Church has always been located at the crossroads of Zmaj Jovina and Dunavska Street. The building of the old Palace, which had been built in 1741 thanks to the efforts of the Bishop Visarion Pavlović, was destroyed in the bombardment of Novi Sad. A new building was designed by Vladimir Nikolić and was completed in 1901. The Bishop's Palace is a monumental, representational structure that was built in the style of eclectism based on the mixture of Romanticism and Secession. Decorative facade elements give it a special, unique impression. The interior was paid a special attention, and according to the method of creating we can single out the staircase with a rail made of cast iron and painted Palace dining room, the work of Vladimir Predojević. The iconostasis in the Chapel within the Palace was made by Vladimir Kurockin.

Synagogue

5

Novi Sad Synagogue with the buildings of the Jewish School and Jewish Community Centre is a spatial cultural-historical complex of great significance. The complex was built according to the design of Lipot Baumhorn, an architect from Pest. It is the most monumental complex that was completed in 1909 dominated by the Synagogue, one of the largest in this part of Europe. Novi Sad Synagogue is a three-nave building above the central part of which the dome that is 40 m high arises. The ground floor holds the male and the “altar seats” while the gallery holds the female seats. The scroll chest (Aron hakodesh) can be found at the top of the eastern side. The entire complex was built in the Hungarian Secession style. The facades of all three buildings were made of yellow clinker brick while the facade of the Synagogue is also decorated with ornaments. In 1944 the Novi Sad Synagogue was used as the collection centre for the Jews.

6 Dunavska (Danube) Street

Dunavska (Danube) Street is one of the oldest streets in Novi Sad that connects the bank of the river Danube and Zmaj Jovina Street. Densely built one-storey buildings in the first part of the street are hiding a branchy network of passages accommodating shops, restaurants, and cake shops is located at the very beginning of the street. The oldest house in Novi Sad called “At the White Lion’s” that was built during the first decades of the 18th century is located just opposite to it. This is one of the rare buildings that were not destroyed during the Rebellion. The Foreign Art Collection, of Novi Sad where the visitors can see the works of art created in Europe in the period from the 15th to the 20th century is located at no. 29. The building of the museum of Vojvodina (no. 35-37) and Museum of Contemporary Art of Vojvodina (no. 37) are located down the street.

7 Petrovaradin Fortress

Petrovaradin Fortress - the “Gibraltar on the Danube” was built from 1692 to 1780. It covers the area of 112 ha. It was built based on the ideas of the Marquis Sebastian de Vauban (1633-1707). The Upper Town is dominated by the Clock Tower. The faces are placed at all four cardinal points, hours are written in Roman figures while the hands are oriented opposite i.e. the large one shows hours and the small one shows minutes. One of the most striking buildings of the Upper Town is the Leopold’s Gate with a Baroque style front and a suspension bridge. On the gate is the motto of the Hapsburg Monarchy “VIRIBUS UNITIS” (With joined forces). The underground military galleries is a unique attraction of Petrovaradin Fortress. The building of this complicated system was completed in 1783. A part of a range is open to visitors in the length of around 1 kilometre, with professional guide service.

8 Matica Srpska

Matica Srpska is the oldest and most reputable cultural and scientific institution among the Serbs. It was founded in Budapest, in 1826 and moved to Novi Sad in 1864. The founders of Matica Srpska gathered around the idea to preserve Serbian culture and tradition, present it to other nations in Europe and raise a general cultural level of the Serbian people. Publishing activity was therefore one of the most important activities, which is confirmed by the existence of “Letopis Matice srpske” (“Matica Srpska Chronicle”), the oldest literary magazine in the world that has been published since 1824. Matica Srpska also includes the Library and Gallery of Matica Srpska. The building of Matica Srpska was built in 1912 according to the project of Momčilo Tapavica as the endowment of Marija Trandafil and put in use in 1928.

9 Gallery Square

Gallery Square is a cultural space that accommodates three galleries. The core fund of the Gallery of Fine Arts - Endowment Collection of Rajko Mamuzić consists of the works of Serbian artists made during the first decades following the World War II that include paintings, sculptures, drawings, graphics, tapestries and other works of art. The Pavle Beljanski Memorial Collection of is a specialised museum institution that disposes with, studies, publishes and exhibits works of art collected by Pavle Beljanski, a Yugoslav diplomat and collector. Currently, the Collection contains 186 works by 37 authors - paintings, sculptures, and tapestries with most important works dating back to the period from the beginning of the 20th century to its seventh decade. Gallery of Matica Srpska was founded in Budapest in 1847. It is the richest art museum of the Serbian art of the recent age.

10 “Štrand” - bathing resort

Štrand is the most popular city beach that was regulated and opened for visitors in 1911. It is currently an entire small town that stretches along 700 m of sandy beach. For the citizen of Novi Sad it is matter of prestige to have a small booth at Štrand and use the summer for socialising and good time with their friends. One of the most beautiful beaches on the Danube is equipped with all infrastructure necessary for a pleasant and contentually rich stay of all the visitors. This includes the catering services, and playgrounds for children and different sports such as beach volley or head tennis for which they say was invented at this beach. In summer Štrand is one of the liveliest places in Novi Sad where sports competitions, concerts and festivals are held. Some of the most important include TID Regatta, The Danube Day, Novi Sad Folklore Festival, etc.

Fish&Zelenish looks like an art gallery or antique shop rather than a restaurant. There are multitudes of details and keepsakes from various parts of the world, a cozy setting and excellent music which have made this place - by now a cult one - an "epicentre" of Novi Sad's gastronomic scene. For nearly two decades this has been a place where the Mediterranean and the local tastes meet. Organic vegetables and cheeses, fresh fish and seafood, best pieces of meat, olive oil and herbs and spices - they have all grown into an authentic menu.

SOCIAL PROGRAM

Culture

A multicultural spirit that is certainly best expressed by the various architectural styles applied around the city. Back in the past, as well as today, Novi Sad has always been home to major institutions of Serbian culture and science: the Matica Srpska, the Serbian National Theater, Sterijino pozorje (The Sterija's Stage), and many others.

Novi Sad University consists of twenty faculties specialized in major fields of culture and science, interesting not just for the local youth but for students around the region as well.

Around the city, plenty of galleries and museums host diverse exhibitions and cultural events, from Museum of Vojvodina and of the City of Novi Sad, over the Modern Art Museum, and Matica Srpska Gallery, where all of them kept the cultural heritage attractive for visitors around the globe.

All of this, as well as many other activities, contributed to making Novi Sad the European Capital of Culture in 2021. The European capital of culture was established to emphasize the richness and diversity of European cultures, strengthen cultural ties among Europeans, bring together people from different European countries, culture and promoted mutual understanding.

Entertainment

Traditionally tolerant and hospitable, the citizens of Novi Sad adore to entertain, have fun, and meet new people. The relaxed and peaceful atmosphere is one of the essential elements that all tourists will feel in Novi Sad. In addition, Novi Sad is recognized as a city of great fun, where everyone will find something to enjoy, from jazz sounds, over rockl gigs, local tambourine music to mainstream house music clubs.

Being a pedestrian-friendly city, it will be easy for you to find your way around the city. If you happen to be in the city during the summer months, don't miss EXIT Festival, ranked one of the best summer festivals in Europe.

Shopping

All different kinds of merchandise and goods are available in stores and markets around Novi Sad. The starting point for your shopping should be Trg Slobode, or the Freedom Square, the star-shaped pedestrian square.

There are few shopping malls: Bazaar, Pariski Magazin, Big shopping centre and Merkator.

Zmaj Jova's and Dunavska streets are famous for café bars, restaurants, craft shops, bookshops as well as for the latest fashion and design stores. Don't miss the famous bar street, Laze Telečkog Street. Not to forget, the "Vojvodina" Center offers both shopping and plenty of opportunities for relaxation and sport.

Near "Vojvodina" Center, there is also Merkator shopping center.

Worth mentioning are also BIG (near the Railway station) and Rodic (at the exit of the city, towards the highway E-75).

Sremski Karlovci

The small town of Sremski Karlovci is located in the vicinity of Novi Sad, just 11 km from the city center, and about 60 km from Belgrade, conveniently connected through a good local road and highways network, or served by the “Romantic” train.

For over 200 years, the town has been the spiritual center of Serbian people and as such flourished with monumental buildings of great importance and cultural heritage. You will experience the St. Nicolas Church (1762), famous for its twin towers and iconoclast, it represents a magnificent piece of baroque architecture. A 15-minute walk from the center of town is the first ever roundtable room in history that was set up in the Chapel of Peace. The Grammar School, dating back to the 18th century, is the first ever high school in Serbia. Numerous wine cellars complete the picture of a magic town. Taste the locally produced “bermet” and you will not be disappointed. But be careful, if you drink the water from the central fountain, you will come back again and get married in Sremski Karlovci (or at least that is what the legend says).

Čenej and its surroundings

If you set off along the old Subotica road to which you are taken by Sentandrejski road, and drive for some ten kilometres through a pleasant countryside, you will come to Čenej, an old Bačka village, currently known as the settlement of “salaš” farmsteads. This is where you can slow down the time at least for a moment and enjoy in the ambience typical for rural households in Vojvodina, in the shade of an orchard, with traditional food and good wines. “Salaš” farmsteads are houses with economic structures scattered in the sea of Vojvodina land. Today, they are the keepers of the spirit of the past times, slow-paced way of life, homemade food, wine, and horses running across the flatland.

Castles of Vojvodina

Beginning in the 18th century, the surroundings of Novi Sad became a place of interest for the gentry of the day to build their mansions and castles.

Varying in size and style, each manor tells a different story. A one-day tour around these stately homes will put you in the shoes of a great land-owner or lord from ancient times.

Some of the castles have been adapted to meet modern needs for quality accommodation and meeting facilities, while some have retained their old charm and characteristic atmosphere. For anyone who wants to break out of the ordinary, a night spent in one of these castles will make that difference.

Holy Mountain, Monasteries of Fruška Gora

Novi Sad is located on the outskirts of Fruška Gora mountain and national park. In the beautiful surroundings, just minutes from the city center, you will discover the orthodox spiritual life. More than 16 monasteries showcase the historical and cultural heritage, a sight not to be missed and listed as a UNESCO world heritage site. Listen for the monks and nuns, and learn from them. Listed about history, life, purpose, happiness. Learn how they perform their daily routine, tasks, and religion ceremonies. Feel the different way of life and adopt some advice. Everyone is welcome. Experience how the monastery’s wine or honey is produced, help them in the process and buy the products as a memorable souvenir. Enjoy the beautiful sceneries and interesting architectural styles.
